

REPORTABLE CONDUCT SCHEME

COMMISSION FOR CHILDREN AND YOUNG PEOPLE

How to report a concern about child safety to the Commission for Children and Young People or other regulators

Organisations included in the Child Safe Standards are legally required to have policies, procedures and practices in place to comply with the Child Safe Standards.

If you have concerns about child safety at an organisation, there are a range of actions you can take:

- Raise your concerns with the organisation
- Report a concern about child safety to the Commission or to other regulators

If you are concerned that an organisation may not be complying with the Child Safe Standards, you can tell the Commission:

- by phone: 1300 78 29 78
- by email: contact@ccyp.vic.gov.au

Some organisations may be regulated for the Child Safe Standards by another agency as well as the Commission. You can find out more about the Commission's co-regulators for Child Safe Standards (also known as relevant authorities) on our pages Report a concern or allegation also Enforcing the Standards.

If you are unsure about how to report your concerns, or who to report to, you are welcome to contact the Commission.

Due to the sensitive nature of this work, the Commission is subject to strict legislated confidentiality requirements. Consistent with these confidentiality requirements, the Commission is usually unable to disclose to individuals who raise concerns any further information about the particular actions we take.
